Practical assignment

- Find out where IoT devices are used in the water sector (perhaps in the future).

- Evaluate data of a specific application in terms of its need for protection against confidentiality, integrity and availability.

- Discuss possible hazards and restrictions due to the failure of individual devices in your personal environment and in the water sector.